The Grand Jury Charges:

Count One

Attempts to Interfere with Administration of Internal Revenue Laws
(Violation of 26 U.S.C. § 7212 (a))

Beginning in or about November 2003, and continuing to in or about February 2004, in the Abilene Division of the Northern District of Texas, and elsewhere, Michael H. Carter, defendant, did corruptly endeavor to intimidate and impede Charles C. Mitchell, Internal Revenue Service Appeals Officer, acting in his official capacity under Title 26, United States Code, by filing fraudulent documents with the Taylor County Clerk's office which purportedly terminated the federal tax lien on his property, to wit: "Truth Affidavit," with attached UCC financing statement, amendments, and 'Notice of Acceptance to Contract, Order, Demand and of International Commercial Claim Administrative Remedy."

In violation of Title 26, United States Code, section 7212(a).
